There is something about a song that is written from real life experience that can take you back to a time and place. It can make you laugh, cry or just appreciate the sound of a soulful country voice. An Evening the Round with Bill Whyte, Linda Davis and Lang Scott deliver all the above. It's a wonderful night of music that will leave you wanting more.

"I can't thank you enough for your wonderful performance in the Cherry Theater last night. The friendship you have with one another is contagious, and we appreciate you letting us share in it. Numerous season ticket holders stopped to tell me it was the best show in years and they truly loved the intimate experience of the music and stories behind it. This was my third year with the Performance Series, and I haven't seen our audience respond to anyone like they did you since I became involved in the program."

Recently I had the pleasure of attending an "Evening In The Round", featuring Linda Davis, Bill Whyte, and our own Sumter, SC native, Lang Scott. The three of them presented an engaging and entertaining night of music and comedy at our beautiful and historic Sumter Opera House. Not only was the music wonderful...but the stories they told about their songs and themselves made for a very fun and intimate evening that ended too soon. I heard many in the audience say it was one of the best shows they'd attended--and they weren't just talking about in Sumter. We are hoping for a return engagement next year; but we'll welcome these outstanding performers in Sumter any time!

"I was thrilled by the excitement generated by our "Evening in the Round" concert!! The beauty of listening to all the songs, along with the stories attached to them, in the intimacy of a small theatre, was dynamite! The whole concert was as casual and comfortable as if being performed in someone's basement rec room. Thank you again for such a magical evening. I can't wait until we do it all again."

"On behalf of Strings in the Mountains, I want to thank you for the exceptional music experience you gave us with your show. In our intimate performing arts venue, you all provided one of the finest shows of the season. From the most heartfelt, poignant ballads to exuberant "rock the house" songs, along with every delightful story told, the audience was captivated every moment. Thank you for being a part of Strings in the Mountains."

"On March 5th, 2010, I had the amazing pleasure of sitting with Bill Whyte, Linda Davis and Lang Scott in The Fantasy Playhouse Theater in Huntsville, Alabama. I have hosted Jim Parker's Songwriter Series in the 300 seat venue for over 5 years. Since that performance I've had many fans tell me it was the best one I've ever had. Between Bill Whyte's hilarious songs and quick wit, Linda Davis' humor and down home warm fuzzy personality to the amazing voice and guitar work of Lang Scott, they were real crowd-pleasers. My new found friends are totally talented, professional and entertaining. I'll have them back in 2011 without a doubt."

"I encourage any group looking to hire the "next big act" to contact this trio. It was one of the most entertaining evenings of great music and hilarious stories from the world of country music ever. Trust me, I've hired and worked with scores of entertainers. You must experience the magical moments that these three friends weave together throughout their show. A must see wherever they play."
